FOREWORD

The programs of the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare are responses to human problems as ancient as disease, illiteracy and dependency -- and as modern as heart transplantation.

In recent years these programs have increased in number and scope to deal with a backlog of unmet needs and a growing array of new challenges.

The growth and expansion have been matched by a deepening awareness of the special needs of handicapped people who, because of physical, mental, educational or social handicaps, are unable to achieve their full potential for leading productive, satisfying lives.

This publication is a guide to the Department's financial assistance programs for the handicapped. The 68 different programs listed in these pages are proof of the Nation's growing commitment to bring its full resources -- financial and professional -- to bear on problems which have too long remained unresolved.

Edward C. Sylvester, Jr.
Assistant Secretary for Community and Field Services

INTRODUCTION

The Department of Health, Education, and Welfare offers a wide range of professional and technical services and financial assistance programs designed to benefit the handicapped.

The basic programs of the Department which relate to handicapped people have been arranged by category in this publication, so that the reader may more easily find the particular program in which he is interested. Program categories are as follows:

- I. Basic and Supportive Services
- II. Research and Demonstrations
- III. Construction
- IV. Training
- V. Income Maintenance
- VI. Other

Certain kinds of information on each program are presented uniformly: purpose; who may receive Federal funds; the Office or Agency from which additional information may be obtained; and the legislation which authorizes the program.

Three types of grants are discussed in this publication:

Formula Grants are direct Federal grants made to designated State agencies for providing services to a target population. These are so named because the amount of the grant to the State is determined by a formula based on population, per capita income and other related factors.

Project Grants are awarded to public and private non-profit organizations to focus on specified areas of interest. Such grants are awarded to an organization for a specific project or purpose upon completion of a prescribed application and review procedure.

Individuals may obtain assistance by: applying to the State agency designated to administer the Federal-State program; applying to a public or private non-profit organization which has received a project grant; or by making application directly to the Federal Government.

In addition to the program offices listed as sources of information, the Regional Offices of the Department are valuable resources. (See p. 93 for listing). Regional Offices are in close touch with recent program developments and will respond to inquiries from interested persons.

Programs classified by type and administering agency are listed on pp. 3-7; a subject index is included on pp. 95-98.

BASIC AND SUPPORTIVE SERVICES

PROGRAM TITLE

1. MEDIA SERVICES AND CAPTIONED FILMS

NATURE AND PURPOSE OF PROGRAM

The Media Services and Captioned Films program enhances the recreational and cultural life of the adult deaf and contributes to the education of deaf and severely hearing impaired children. This is accomplished through a loan service of films and educational media supported by research, production and training activities. This authority extends the educational and supportive services to parents of deaf children, to those who work with the deaf and to employers of the deaf. The recent amendments under P.L. 90-247 expanded the authority to encompass other handicapped children.

WHO CAN APPLY, HOW TO APPLY

Groups of three or more deaf persons, such as clubs, schools, and other organizations are eligible to borrow captioned films and other materials. Certified schools and organizations are also eligible to receive audio visual equipment. Individuals may be certified as borrowers under special circumstances. Universities, colleges, state departments, individuals, and non-profit institutions are eligible for research and training contracts. Applications to borrow films are submitted to Media Services and Captioned Films Branch, Office of Education. Research and training proposals are submitted to and evaluated by the Division of Educational Services, Bureau of Education for the Handicapped.

PROGRAM TITLE 13. VOCATIONAL REHABILITATION SERVICES TO BLIND PERSONS

NATURE AND PURPOSE OF PROGRAM

The Division of Services to the Blind provides leadership and guidance to the States in developing programs of vocational rehabilitation services to blind persons, and it administers the provisions of the Randolph-Sheppard Act. The Act provides for enlarging the economic opportunities for the blind; making surveys of industries for blind persons; and making information available to the public.

The Division develops standards and procedures to assist State agencies in the rehabilitation of blind persons. Through these agencies, eligible persons are placed in industry; in vending stand and small commercial enterprises; in the professions; in managerial sales, and office work; in agriculture; in sheltered workshops, and in home industries. The Division also conducts studies to determine the number of blind persons who are employable, what occupations they might fill, and what factors contribute to their success or failure in these jobs.

The Division develops guidelines, including manual instructions, for the provision of a broad program of social services to aid-to-the-blind recipients and others who can benefit from such services; provides consultation to regional offices, State agencies, and voluntary organizations to implement effective delivery of total social services.

WHO CAN APPLY,
HOW TO APPLY

Any person may apply for these services if: (1) He has not more than 20/200 of visual acuity in the better eye with correcting lenses; (2) he has visual acuity greater than 20/200 but with a limited visual field that subtends an angle no greater than 20 degrees.

Eligible persons may apply directly or may be referred to State vocational rehabilitation agencies for services. In most instances persons having serious visual impairments residing in States where there is an agency for the blind are served by that agency through agreement with the general agency. All others are provided services by the general agency.

PROGRAM TITLE15. CRIPPLED CHILDREN'S SERVICES*NATURE AND

Provides grants-in-aid to States for extension and improvement (especially in rural areas and areas of severe economic distress), of services to crippled children and children suffering from conditions that lead to crippling. These services include locating crippled children and providing medical, surgical, corrective, and other services for diagnosis, hospitalization, and aftercare for such children.

The program also provides grants for special projects of regional or national significance which may contribute to the advancement of services for crippled children. A proportion of the annual appropriation is earmarked for special projects to support programs for mentally retarded children.

Each State's grant for crippled children's services is determined, after a uniform allocation, by such factors as the number of children under 21 years of age, the financial need of the State for help in carrying out its program, and its relative number of rural children. Each State must match, on a dollar-for-dollar basis, one-half of the Federal funds. There are no matching fund requirements for the special project funds.

PROGRAM TITLE

62. OLD-AGE ASSISTANCE

Provides Federal Grants to States to assist needy persons 65 and over by providing financial assistance, medical care, and appropriate welfare services that will help them attain or retain self-care as much as is practicable.

If the plan comprises both old-age assistance and medical assistance for the aged, the Federal grant has the additional purpose of enabling the State to furnish medical assistance to elderly individuals who are not recipients of old-age assistance but are unable to meet the cost of necessary medical services.

NATURE AND
PROGRAM

Three main forms of assistance are provided: (1) cash payments averaging $67 nationally, ranging by States from $36 to $107 a month per person for food and other basic needs; (2) any type of medical or remedial care recognized under State law, through payments directly to hospitals, physicians, dentists, and others providing care; and (3) social services such as counseling on personal problems, help in finding better housing, and referral to community resources.

Federal funds are available to cover 75% of the costs of providing certain preventive and rehabilitative services prescribed or specified by the U.S. Department of Health, Education, and Welfare.

The program must be in effect statewide and administered or supervised by a single State agency. Federal conditions and provisions for individual eligibility must be covered in the State plan.

WHO CAN APPLY,
HOW TO APPLY

In determining an applicant's need for old-age assistance, the State is required to take into consideration other income and resources, but its plan may permit the State agency to disregard the first $7.50 a month of any income, plus the first $20 and a half of the next $60 from earned income.

PROGRAM TITLE 63. SOCIAL SECURITY - RETIREMENT AND SURVIVORS INSURANCE

Provides cash benefit payments to retired workers, their dependents, and to survivors of deceased workers. The national social security program is the basic program for providing income to the worker and his family when he retires, becomes disabled, or dies; it also provides protection against the high cost of health care in old age.

NATURE AND PURPOSE OF PROGRAM

Under the Social Security Act, workers, their employers, and self-employed people pay contributions based on earnings during their working years. When earnings stop or are reduced because of the worker's retirement or death, monthly cash benefits are paid to replace part of the earnings the family has lost.

Workers and their spouses can receive permanently reduced benefits as early as 62, or unreduced benefits at 62, or permanently reduced benefits as early as 60. If severely disabled, widows and dependent widowers may be eligible to receive benefits as early as age 50. Dependent widowers and parents of deceased workers can receive benefits at 62. A lump-sum death payment is made at the worker's death.

WHO CAN APPLY, HOW TO APPLY

Children of retired or deceased workers can receive benefits until they are 18 or until age 22 if they are full-time students. Children of deceased or retired workers can get benefits regardless of age if the children become disabled before age 18. Mothers caring for eligible children under age 18 or disabled can receive benefits regardless of age. File with the district offices of the Social Security Administration.

PROGRAM TITLE64. SOCIAL SECURITY - DISABILITY INSURANCE

NATURE AND

Provides cash benefit payments to disabled workers under age 65 and to their dependents. Benefits continue for as long as the worker is disabled. If he is still receiving disability benefits when he reaches 65, his benefit is changed to a retirement benefit.

Under the Social Security Act, workers, their employers, and self-employed people pay contributions on their earnings while they are working. If earnings stop because of disability, monthly cash payments replace part of the money the family has lost.

WHO CAN APPLY,
HOW TO APPLY

A disabled worker can receive benefits if (1) his mental or physical impairment prevents him from doing substantial gainful work, (2) his disability has lasted or is expected to last for at least 12 months or to result in death, and (3) he meets a test of substantial recent work covered under social security and has a specified total amount of covered work.

Children of disabled workers can receive benefits until they are 18, or until age 22 if they are full-time students. Children of disabled workers can get benefits regardless of age if the children become disabled before age 18. Mothers caring for eligible children under age 18 or disabled can receive benefits regardless of age. Spouses, age 62 or over of workers entitled to social security benefits may also qualify for monthly benefit payments. File applications for benefits with district offices of the Social Security Admin.
